EDGINGS

PREFACE.

The following edges are the plain crochet which can be made of any kind of crochet thread, either in fine or coarse, depending on the kind of material used.

These designs are for linen and bath towels, pillow-slips, dresser covers, table runners, doilies, dresses, curtain and pin-cushion edges.

The edges which are worked through the material such as towels, pillow-slips, dresser covers, etc., the last row may be made in any color desired.

The foundations of the following laces consist of a chain stitch, double stitch, treble stitch, double treble stitch, triple-treble, double triple-treble and picot.

CHAIN STITCH.

Make one or several stitches any length desired.

DOUBLE STITCH.

This is made by working on cord or through the material. Pass hook through the material, picking up thread—cast off two loops—pass hook under cord—pick up thread and cast off two loops.

TREBLE STITCH.

Thread over the hook once and cast off two and two.

DOUBLE TREBLE.

Thread over the hook twice—cast off three times—two and two and two .

DOUBLE TRIPLE-TREBLE.

Thread over hook three times. Cast off two—cast off two—cast off two--cast off two.

PICOT STITCH.

Make four doubles over cord—four chains for a picot—passing the hook through the pearl stitch, (which is the top of the stitch that looks like a chain), and one of the uprights of the double—four doubles over padding cord. Repeat picot.
