Smarten Your Home With Crochet

Household Arts by Alice Brooks

Lacy Medallion Practically Repeats Itself

PATTERN 5728

Behold the decorative richness of this lovely crochet! Then see the single "pattern" medallion that, repeated, goes to make up dainty accessories for your home. It's really a tatting design, only it goes much faster. Lacy as snow crystals, yet durable as iron, these are made of inexpensive string or, if finer ones are desired, mercerized crochet cotton. A chair set, quickly made from these, is a most acceptable gift, as is also a doilie or buffet set. In pattern 5728 you will find instructions for making the medallion and joining it to make a variety of useful articles, material requirements and illustrations of all stitches used.

These Doilies Are Always Useful

In every handicraft there are some design forms that are handed down from generation to generation, retaining their popularity through all the years. When this happens we know that the design must be good.

Crochet is no exception to this rule. Back in the days of our great-grandmothers, the pineapple (and you can see how faithfully the design represents the fruit) was a favorite. That's because it is not only beautiful, but easy to crochet as well.

These doilies—they form a set of three, an oval 16x30 inches, one 13 and one 6 inches in diameter—will add greatly to the appearance of any room. Use string or finer cotton, depending on the size doilies you want. Pattern 6328 contains instructions for making doilies; illustrations of them and stitches; photograph of doily; materials needed.
